Islamic Community Center Update

07-03-2020

It's A Long Driveway To The Islamic Community Center

It is a long driveway to the Islamic Community Center and from here it looks very quiet. Like there's nothing going on, maybe intriguing or even inviting. So, be curious, accept the invitation and drive down the driveway. You might be surprised.

Right now drainage pipes line the driveway and the coarse aggregate is rough, but soon it will change. You might even have another driveway on the left side which will take many to a future development.

We will do our best to keep you updated weekly with the progress of the Islamic Community Center

There's A Lot Going On At The End Of The Driveway!

The construction company is laying topsoil for grass that will give a finished touch to the site. That indicates that their work is nearing completion. Hopefully, by the end of this month we can gather at the site and enjoy the work we all shared. We look forward to the transformation of this land into the Islamic Community Center. Until the center is built the site can be like a park for our communities. Our children can play; anyone can take walks; experience the nature sights, trees, birds, and wildlife; and we can have gatherings within the New York Forward Safety Plan guidelines. Plans for the Eid are being made.

The long driveway to the Islamic Community Center sets the center away from the main road for privacy, and a natural fence is created by the existing trees.

We want everyone to enjoy themselves safely and make the best use of the land.

The ISCNY logo on the right will also take you to the ISCNY web page where you can make a secure donation.
